When the scent of mulled wine and freshly roasted almonds tickles your nose, your cheeks glow red from the cold air, and the entire city center is covered in festive lights, it can only mean one thing: the Essen International Christmas Market is back. And it has received two awards. Not only is it the most sustainable Christmas market in Europe, it is also the „Best Christmas Market“ in the whole of Germany.

Another highlight is the “WDR 2 Christmas Miracle” which will be hosted at Burgplatz from December 13 to 17. The popular radio station presenters Sabine Heinrich, Steffi Neu, Thomas Bug, and Jan Malte Andresen will broadcast non-stop for over 100 hours live from the specially constructed glass studio. In this charity campaign, you can not only request your favorite song in exchange for a donation, but you can also expect to see famous faces, big emotions, and exciting conversations.

If you would like to find out more about what Essen has to offer tourists, simply visit our Tourist Information Center at Kettwiger Str. 35, open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., closed on Sunday (except December 14, 2025, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.), or visit www.visitessen.de.
